

Verifying Graduate Studies Admission Status

General Information

While the application status cannot be viewed from within Aurora Student, a user can verify whether a student's admission to a program has been finalized by verifying their current program of study.

1. Using Advisor Services in Aurora Student Self Service, select General Record. If you have not yet done so you will be required to enter the Student ID and Term. Note: Entering the most recent term will help to ensure that you are viewing the most recent record. You may also view future term information.
2. Using the fields below, verify whether the student's status is Active and whether their Current Program and Major reflect the program to which they have applied for admission. If the student's status is Inactive, or if the program information has not yet changed to reflect the program that they have applied to, the student has not yet been admitted to that program.

The screenshot shows the 'General Record' page in Aurora Student Self Service. The page header includes the University of Manitoba logo and the 'AURORA' branding. Navigation tabs include 'Personal Information', 'Advisor Services', 'Application for UG Admission', and 'Student Reports'. A 'MENU HELP EXIT' link is visible in the top right.
